NOTE: When choosing rails, placement is critical. The side of the bed that the rails are to be installed on must be known at the time of ordering. To determine left or right, you must be at the foot of the bed and facing the head of the bed for proper orientation.

[B] Side Support Rail (stationary)

The fixed side support rails allow for safe and simple transfers. These ¼ and ½ rails allow for safe positioning and transfer support, while ensuring user safety by meeting global bed standard entrapment guidelines.
